- The experience of sharing periods of the daily life and activities with landscape designer Roberto Burle Marx between Sítio Santo Antônio da Bica and his Office in Laranjeiras (Rio de Janeiro). During that time I could follow the different aspects of his broad production (landscape design, garden design, urban design, sculptures, drawings, paints) and his huge quantity of interests (from music, to every sort of art, from social relationships to popular culture, to scientific and philosophical questions). In the office, several projects were being elaborated simultaneously. Among these, the extension of the garden of the property of Luis Cesar Fernandes in Correias, Rio de Janeiro; the restoration project Parco Ibirapuera, in São Paulo; project to expand Byscayne Boulevard, in Miami; one proposal for a Botanic Garden in the northeastern region of Brazil (1990/1991).
- Proposal for the reclamation of an inert basin of a barite quarry of the Mont'Elga barite mine in Narcao, Sardinia. Project realized in collaboration with the Faculty of Mining Engineering of the University of Cagliari. (1990).
- Collaboration with the Italhome studio (Milan) as the coordinator of refurbishment projects and interior design of residences, restaurants, shops, offices and their outside spaces. One of our aims was to work side by side with architects as Luigi Caccia Dominioni, Antonio Zanuso, Bill Pascoe, Federica Zanuso, Daniela Volpi, Marco Albini, Franca Helg and the interior designers Lavinia Caccia Dominioni and Hillary Mercus, offering them consulting and carrying on the project up to the delivery of the finished work. (1986/1990).
- Project of G. Frigerio's apartment in Segrate, Milan (1989)
- Project of the restaurant Doidejar in Sant'Elena, Cagliari (1988).
- Apprenticeship at the Prof. Luciano Formica Restoration Studio in Milan, participating in works which require different technics: restoration of roman mosaics, roman roads, medieval frescoes, early medieval sculptures, medieval stone façades, medieval plaster, garden follies and fountains. The works, localized mainly in Lombardy and Veneto, were held with the partnership with the local superintendence of fine art. (1985/1986)

- Restoration and refurbishment of the White Martins Brazil Headquarters - Sao Paulo (1982/1983)
- Project of the penthouse apartment of Eloi and Neide Carvalho de Oliveira – Sao Paulo (1982)

*The process of writing a thesis presupposes familiarity with the landscape approach to the project, based on a solid critical and theoretical background, leading to an incisive character design. The choice of theme will lead to the scale of the work that spans within a range that covers from regional to local ones.
