“Human Cities/Smoties- Creative works with small and remote places”

<https://humancities.eu/smoties/>

Creative Europe Programme. Category 2 – Large scale cooperation projects.

Project coordinator: Politecnico di Milano.

Partners: Alternance [ISL], University of Aegean [GR], University of Madeira [P], Cité du Design, Saint-Etienne [FR], Urban Planning Institute of the Republic of Slovenia, Ljubljana [SI], Clear Village, London [UK], Association of Estonian designers, Tallinn [EST], Silesian castle art and enterprise design cluster, Cieszyn [PL], FH Joanneum, Graz [AT].

It investigates the liveability of public spaces by using participatory design as a tool to supply systems of process and innovation. It applies this approach to 10 small and remote EU places which are depopulated, relationally remote and depositories of a material and immaterial culture that risks being undervalued, not consolidated, and hence lost. It aims at developing synergies between local stakeholders and the project partners as interlocutors, activators, and supporter of creative works through a shared methodology (Smoties Toolbox) that will guarantee a process of engaging local communities for audience development, transnational mobility of creative professionals, masterclasses and training for capacity building purposes and an evaluation of the impact to generate a long-term legacy in the involved contexts.
